FOREWORD

Within the covers of this book the first Panther Staff has endeavored to preserve memories of the faculty, the students, and the activities of the year in a manner that will give pleasure to all concerned in the future when we have bidden our friends and our school good-bye.

It is our purpose to keep fresh the memories of friendships, activities, romance, and richness of our high school year.

May this book ever serve you as a most pleasant reminder of the days that have passed so swiftly beyond recall and bring as much pleasure to those who read it as it has to the staff who prepared it.

DEDICATION

In grateful appreciation to PRINCIPAL G. A. ROSBOROUGH

for his perception of the right in all things, for his high ideals of unselfish service, and for his wise judgments we,
The Staff dedicate
the first edition of
THE PANTHER

Alvin Mitchell

To The Panther:

Records are vitally important to any people. Believing as I do that some of our most worthwhile achievements still lie hidden in some unknown archives because of a lack of record, I heartily endorse this gigantic task of collecting and perpetuating data pertinent to teachers and students of Pemberton High School.

I am deeply appreciative to the sponsor and her very efficient staff for dedicating this initial issue of The Panther to the Principal.

Very truly yours,

G. A. ROSBOROUGH

At the Helm

Professor G. A. Rosboro, Principal

Mrs. M. B. Nelson, Registrar

"THE HISTORY OF PEMBERTON HIGH SCHOOL"

The first public schools of Marshall were taught in churches with some support by the city and under the supervision of City Superintendent Chesley Adams.

Superintendent Adams offered the late H. B. Pemberton, Sr., the principalship of one of the Negro schools with an informal general oversight of them all until he could make it formal.

Prof. Pemberton made a plea to the Superintendent for a school building for Negroes separate from all church connections with an organized and unified scheme of studies and work under the direction and supervision of the Superintendent.

The superintendent saw wisdom in the plea of Professor Pemberton, therefore he gave him permission to find a building, raise the money for the purchase of the same and to organize the school work as he saw fit to do.

There was no public school money to buy or build a Negro school. The money had to be raised by gifts and entertainments.

There was a dilapidated old church building located on a hill between Crockett and Border streets that was about to be sold for debt. On faith, Professor Pemberton purchased this property with money borrowed from the bank, on his personal note. With the loyal support of the citizens, this note was soon paid and money was raised to build a four-room brick building. The school began with the name of Central School with a faculty of four; two men and two women. Thus, Professor Pemberton became the real founder of the first Negro Public School of Marshall.

Grades one to seven were taught in this school for a number of years.

Professor Pemberton was not satisfied with just the grade work for the Negro boys and girls of Marshall. Again, he petitioned the board and at this time the school board made addition of four more rooms and a hall to the brick building. The High School began with Prof. Pemberton as Principal of the two schools and the sole teacher in the High School. The High School rapidly grew, another teacher was elected—the late Mrs. L. B. Williams.

Central School had now grown to an enrollment of over a thousand pupils ranging from the first grade through the eleventh.

Professor Pemberton believed in the training of the head, the heart and the hands. He wanted the children taught cooking, sewing, agriculture, blacksmithing, shoemaking, printing, typing and band and instrumental music. The Board was willing that these subjects be taught but there was no money to hire instructors. With Professor Pemberton there were no barriers, the GO sign was all he wanted. An old house near the school was rented, a wood cooking stove and a machine was given by two of the leading firms of Marshall. Showers of dishes and cooking utensils were given by white and colored citizens. The young ladies from Wiley gave their services free of charge—thus began the cooking and sewing departments of Central High. Mr. P. R. Kendle, an expert blacksmith, taught the boys blacksmithing free of charge. A Rev. Mr. Davis, pastor of Galilee Baptist Church, gave his services free in teaching the boys to make and mend shoes, a teacher of Wiley taught typing and band music. Prof. J. J. Rhoads, now president of Bishop College, taught instrumental and vocal music. He later became the assistant Principal of the school.

In 1925 a new site on the Rosborough Springs Road near Wiley College was purchased for the erection of a modern High School building for High School Students only. Professor Pemberton was made Principal of this school. For a number of years after moving to the new site the school still bore the name of Central High. Some friends became interested in changing the name of the school to honor the man who had done so much for his race. This proposition was presented to the Alumni Association; they readily agreed to the same, a petition was circulated to ascertain the wishes of the Patrons and Negro citizens to this proposition. The petition was signed by practically every citizen of Marshall. Thus, Central High became H. B. Pemberton High School.

In April, 1944, after more than fifty years of golden service for the uplift of his race, Professor Pemberton passed.

Professor G. A. Rosboro, a young man of sterling qualities, an honor graduate of Pemberton High, and of Wiley College and a graduate student of the University of Colorado, the assistant Principal, and the head of the Social Science Department, became the second Principal of Pemberton High.

Under the efficient leadership of this dynamic Principal, many changes have been made. The library has been enlarged, and visual aid in teaching has been introduced. The campus has been beautified. Definite activity periods are observed, and the school has acquired new stage scenery, etc.

Professor Rosborough, as principal of Pemberton High School, is steadily adding to the well-laid foundation made by the founder and first principal.

SCHOOL SONG

1. We love the name of Pemberton
And the work for which it stands,
All its treasures, and its Glories
And its services to man,
How our hearts do burn within us
When we hear that glorious name,
Glory, glory to dear Pemberton
The school that has eternal fame.

CHORUS

Oh Pemberton, dear Pemberton
Our hearts with love do burn for thee,
All thy sons shall keep thy banner
Floating high for liberty.

2. Our school' the pride of all the south
We pay homage now to thee,
All thy sons and daughters
In the land where e'er they be,
And we never can forget thee,
Altho' we are far apart,
Thy dear name we'll keep forever
Deep within our faithful hearts.

ORGANIZATIONS

It has been a pleasure to serve on the staff of the first Annual. The time spent on The Panther will always be cherished as a monument of pleasure.

The cooperation of the Principal, staff members, faculty, students, and friends has helped us to realize our hopes and our dreams.

We are very grateful to Mrs. E. B. Long for her untiring efforts, and long hours of work. She was a source of inspiration to us.

Seniors, we hope the memories of our high school days will ever live as you turn the pages of the dear ole "Panther."

THE QUINTETTE

No greater asset has any school than a well trained male quintette.

This group has appeared before many civic organizations such as Lion's Club, Kiwanis Club, and Chamber of Commerce. It has become a favorite of Wiley and Bishop Colleges, churches, both white and Negro, and rural schools. The voices are well balanced, and produce harmonious chords seldom heard in similar groups.

Chorus of Models:

1. Old fashioned models—and Queen of Fashion, Greta Garbo Haynes—and chorus; 2. Bad taste models—and shopping here and there, Mrs. Hipeak and daughters—and chorus; 3. Fashion Ensemble (1) Street dress models, (2) Sport dress models; (3) Evening dress models; 4. Pajama parade, pajamas chorus; 5. House dress models, house wives' chorus; 6. School dress models, we're just looking-chorus; 7. Sport dress models, high school girls today; 8. Afternoon and Evening models, The Suzanne Waltz; 9. "I've been somewhere," Eliza Jane; 10. Wedding party models; 11. "We're Home Ec. Girls Who've Reached the Top"—chorus.

Madame Suzanne is the owner of a very smart and up-to-date style shop called "The Suzanne Shop," and attributes her success to her training in Home Economics while in school. All the models and seamstresses in her shop are Home Economics girls.

Eliza Jane, the admiring niece of "Madame Sue," comes to visit her while her mother is out of town; she tries to imitate everything she does, and even admires Jack, to whom Madame Sue is soon to be married.

Marie is an Irish girl lately from the ol' country, trying to play the part of a smart French maid—yet wondering what impression this change will make on her sweetheart "Pat" when he comes for her from "Ireland's Shore."

Rich Mrs. Hipeak, and her two daughters, Lenore who is still in school, and Anne who is soon to be married, have come in desperation to Madame Suzanne's shop, since they have worn themselves out looking all morning in vain for attractive and suitable wardrobes. In appropriate setting with song, dance, and music Madame Suzanne displays the various groups of frocks that her clients wish to see, the girls are "thrilled" of course and each makes her selections enthusiastically, and with the guidance of Madame Suzanne, in good taste.

Lenore is so impressed that she decides to study Home Economics in school so she can learn to choose and make her own clothes.

After the busy shopping day is over, the story ends with the wedding of Madame Sue, the wedding party being composed of the lovely and talented "Home Ed." girls of her shop.

RESUME OF SEASON

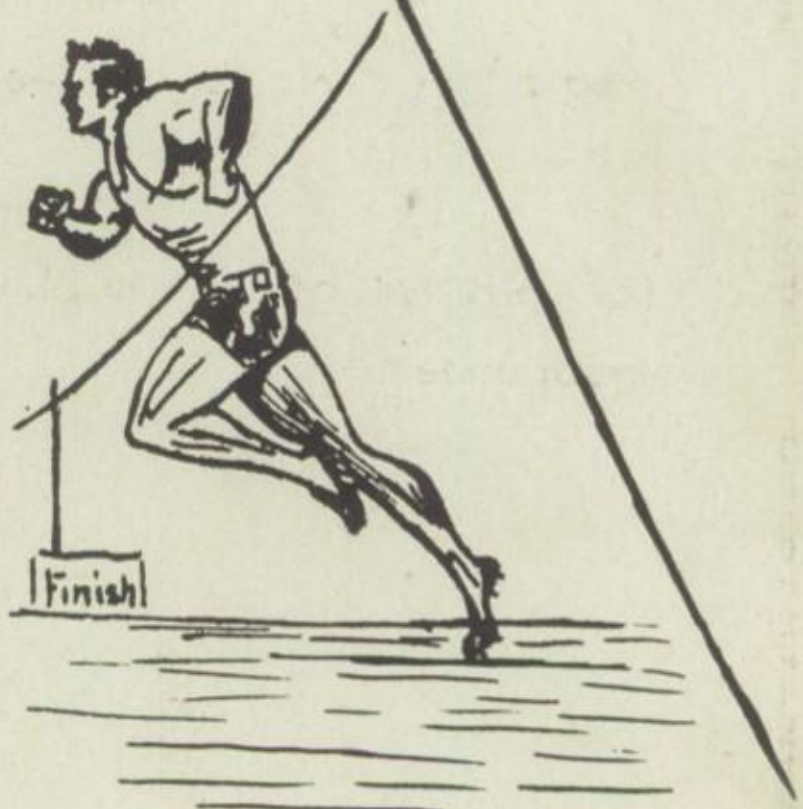

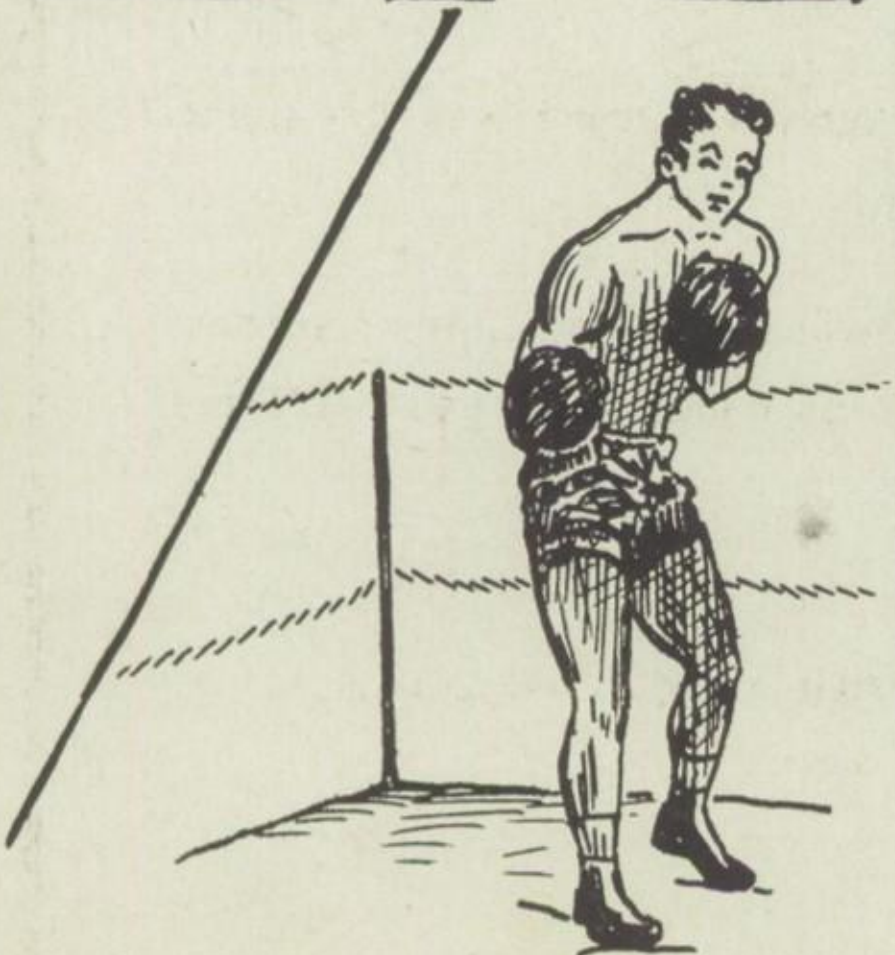

- With no facilities for basketball available at the school, we managed to finish the season with a fair club.
- Our team played fourteen games for the season, winning only eight.
- The team won second place in the district tournament at Bishop College.
- We also played in the Texas Open Tournament at Tyler, Texas, and were eliminated by Hebert of Beaumont and Central of Galveston, the winner and runner-up of the tournament.
- Captain Richard Bennett was the spark-plug of the team for the season.
- The team will be better another season, for there will be several players on hand with a year's playing experience.

our intramural games.

Hold that Tiger!

The Panthers on the Kill!

Three of our Four Horsemen are expected to return next year and will gallop better than last year, we hope. In the person of Capt. Romeo Keyes, fullback; our fleet-footed halfback, "Baby" John Harris, and our powerhouse, Samuel Hooper.

Bonnie Fitzpatrick

Eddie Jones, dynamic guard and a mainstay of the Pemberton team.

William Emory, All-District guard, who likes to play the part of the fifth man in the opponents' backfield.

Bonnie Fitzpatrick, also All-District man, is considered a very outstanding tackle in District 2.

Robert Bausley, outstanding end at Pemberton High. His loss to the Pemberton Panthers will be felt greatly.

The Pemberton High School football season was opened officially on September 15, 1945. At the initial siren call for tryouts, the veterans of former battles and a host of new material assembled on the gridiron for practice; after several weeks of hard drilling the ax fell and only twenty-four stalwart youths were able to stem the tide.

The season was begun in grand style, for the Panthers were the victors in the first several games; although we lost some major scrambles, we have reason to feel happy, in that we encountered several teams of great repute, and made a creditable showing.

For example we matched brains and brawn with the highly touted squad of Booker Washington High School of Dallas which ended in a scoreless tie. Of all the games of the season this one boosted our stock highest. Other games that proved the prowess of the Panthers were: Lufkin 12, Pemberton 0; Tyler 0, Pemberton 0; Paris 12, Pemberton 6.

The 1945 season brought more publicity to the school than all previous years' efforts. Injuries to Goodall early in the season relegated him to the bench except for the kick-off.

SQUAD AT PLAY

RECORD OF BASKETBALL SEASON

The 1945-46 club was the largest and swiftest in the history of the school. The girls really "tipped the scales." Cooperation was the password and their willingness to do team work was their secret of success.

The officers were very alert and their practices and meetings were held systematically.

The president, Miss Lanetta Choyce, is not only a good athlete, but a campus favorite and a high ranking student. She is a member of the Honor Society and reigns as queen of the Sophomore Class.

The captain, Miss Pressie Lee Bennett, was anxious for the team to win for itself a high rating. She constantly reminded the girls of their aim, which was physical and character development. Emphasis was placed on a friendly feeling between the opposing teams, with the joy of play the keynote, rather than a show-off.

During the past season the girls' team was especially interesting, and as the games are reviewed, you will remember that all games were played with enthusiasm and good sportsmanship was exhibited.

The first game was played between Pemberton and Shiloh with Pemberton winning 13-9. Other games: Pemberton 16, Tyler 6; Gladewater 10, Pemberton 16; Longview 6, Pemberton 9; Palestine 4, Pemberton 16; Lindale 13, Pemberton 14; Hawkins 13, Pemberton 12; Carver 22, Pemberton 20; Carver 12, Pemberton 12.

On March 9 the Pemberton High Girls sponsored an open tournament at the Bishop College gym. Seven teams enrolled for the tilt.

Mt. Enterprise defeated Paris 30-17 in the first elimination. Pemberton trounced Longview 34-9. Karnack scored over Linden in a stiff race, 24-20.

In the quarter Mt. Enterprise returned to defeat Texarkana 24-12. In the semi-final Karnack and Pemberton battled to the tune of 17-16 in favor of Karnack. This eliminated Pemberton for the final. The consolation game was played between Pemberton and Paris with Pemberton winning by a score 21-11.

Mt. Enterprise came in the third time, defeating Karnack for the championship 28-20. Karnack was runner-up.

The record for the forwards this season stands as follows: Lanetta Choyce, 87 points; Pressie Lee Bennett, 36 points; M. Levels, 28 points.

Other players making a good showing were: Anthony Floyd, Queenie Mitchell, Gladys McLin, Virgie Bacon, Q. T. Minneweather, Bertha Henry, Lula Levels, Bobbye Campbell, Helen Floyd, Lavern Thomas.

Total scores for the season: Pemberton 199, Opponents 117.

GIRLS' SOFT BALL TEAM

Center: Jewel Wilson, Pitcher
Batter: Emma E. Brooks
Catcher: Mary E. May

Soft ball is one phase of recreation for the girls' Physical Education Class. The class engaged in gymnastics, calisthenics and folk dancing the first semester. Two soft ball teams have been organized for the spring semester.

The purpose of physical education is to develop the students mentally, physically, and morally through various forms of recreation and to promote neuromuscular and psychomotor education.

TRACK SHOTS

In seeking new worlds to conquer, Pemberton High School introduced "Track" to her athletic program for 1945-46. The boys entered into the practices with gratifying enthusiasm, and, although this was our initial entry into the field of "Track," our boys made a fine showing at Dallas and at Prairie View.

The boys who show promise in the various forms of "Track" are as follows: Leonidas Malone, dashes, broad jump; Eddie Washington, broad jump, shot put; Harold Scott, discus, shot put and high jump; Romeo Keys, relays and dashes; Naaman Fields, distant run; Robert Bausley, high jump and low hurdles; Leon Robinson, distant run; Eddie Jones, pole vault; Marcus Emory, distant run; Alvin Mitchell, dashes and relays.

If present signs are keynotes to success, we predict a great day in "Track" at Pemberton High in the near future. Coaches P. T. Young and G. C. Stephens are ecstatic over the results of the above named meets.
